80% of all tennis movements are either lateral or diagonal. Footwork during this type of movement is critical to improved shot making. Exact technology enables quicker push off from recovery as well as faster & more efficient footwork during these movement phases.

Collaboration between the Babolat & Michelin Research & Development departments has resulted in a unique bi-sculptural solid rubber outsole providing the very best traction & durability for high level players.

Vibrakill is a cushioning device constructed from Rubber EVA. Placed in both the forefoot & rearfoot it uses two different thicknesses & densities to answer the specific cushioning and recovery needs created by tennis movements.
